

This exciting program series at the New York Hall of Science enables preschoolers and their favorite adventurous adult to find new ways to explore the fascinating world we live in. Enjoy a guided activity, a "field trip" out on the museum floor and an experiment or creative project. Each one-hour session includes time for play and suggested activities to try at home. Sessions are limited to 30 people.

July, August & September 2008

Splish Splash Science!

Looking for a way to cool off and have fun this summer? Join us at the Hall to explore some wonderful things that water can do.
